ORGANIZATION & RELATIONSHIP SYSTEMS AT WORK

What is ORS@Work™?

ORS@Work is an introductory two-day course produced by CRR Global that explores the Organization and Relationship Systems Coaching (ORSC™) coaching model and is a business-focused course. It can also serve as the first course in the ORSC™ series.

RELATIONSHIP SYSTEMS INTELLIGENCE

Beyond Emotional Intelligence (relationship with oneself), and Social Intelligence (relationship with other) lies Relationship Systems Intelligence where the focus is on the entire group, team and or system.

Relationship Systems Intelligence

OVERVIEW OF THE COURSE

Thanks to the internet which facilitates global collaboration 24/7 and with constant change being the new norm, work that was once performed by individuals is now being tasked out to teams. The increase in numbers of knowledge workers who must share information, insights, learning and best practices in order for companies to succeed, stresses communication channels further. So how can organizations create a work environment that supports complex human interactions, embraces conflict, retains valuable knowledge workers and change at the speed of light while remaining profitable and productive? The answer is Relationship Systems Intelligence (RSI™).

"I have completed four coach training programs, taken emotional intelligence certification and change management training and yet it is CRR Global's Relationship Systems tools and models that always come to the forefront of my work with my clients, whether we're tackling a large scale organizational change or I'm engaged in one-on-one coaching with an executive or business owner."
